St. Johns to have Electric Lights.

The Nebo Electric Light and Power Company will commence operations on the installing of their apparatus for the purpose of furnishing our city with light and power in the near future. Operations will be commenced at once.

Messrs. David K. Udall, John P. Rothlisberger and son Maurice are behind the enterprise.

This project is worthy of the support and encouragement of every citizen of St. Johns. It means a boost to the city in several ways. It will furnish more employment for the people of the town, it will also increase our tax valuation and set more money in circulation by keeping at home the money that is now being sent away for kerosene and other fuel for light.

The plant will be established at the grist-mill where water can be had for power. We are told that a 30-horse power engine has been ordered which will be used during any shortage of water.

It is the wish of many that this enterprise will prove a success and there is no reason why it should not.
